Many people have difficulty maintaining a healthy lifestyle because of outside forces like work, school, social life, etc. Maintaining a healthy lifestyle could mean exercising everyday, dieting, and drinking water everyday. In order to help, many people will download fitness apps in order to help track and plan what they have to do.